DEFENDANTS' POSITION STATEMENT

JAMIE MOSLEY, LAUREL COUNTY JAILER
and LAUREL COUNTY CORRECTIONAL CENTER

DEFENDANTS

This matter is before the Court pursuant to the December 3, 2018 scheduling order entered in this case. Pursuant to that order, Defendants submit this position statement.

INTRODUCTION

This case concerns Plaintiff's attempt to convert findings of mistake, confusion, delay, and other alleged wrongful acts into a finding of willful and intentional violations of law, without actual evidence—let alone the substantial evidence required by law—to support it. Defendants do not suggest they handled Plaintiff's Open Records request perfectly, but for the reasons below, Plaintiff has failed to meet its high burden of proof and its case should be dismissed with prejudice.

FACTS

The procedural history for this case is set out in the parties' December 10, 2018 joint response to this Court's order of December 3, 2018. The facts of record giving rise to this case can be summarized as follows:

Plaintiff alleges on August 29, 2017, Defendant Mosley organized and hosted a "Night of Prayer" at Defendant Laurel County Correctional Center ("LCCC"). Citizens and churches were invited to pray for inmates, their families, their victims, and jail staff. Ministers, community members, and jail staff attended. A church choir performed. Attendees participated in prayer. Complaint at Paragraphs 9-11.

Upon learning about the event, Plaintiff, through its attorney, Andrew Seidel, submitted an Open Records request to the LCCC dated October 6, 2017. Four items in Plaintiff's request concerned the Night of Prayer. One item concerned records on the LCCC's substance abuse programming. One item concerned records on the LCCC's religious programming. Complaint at Paragraph 12.

The LCCC responded on October 23, 2017. With its response, the LCCC produced Policy and Procedure Guidelines for 2015, 2016, 2017, and also produced substance abuse programming contracts with the state. The LCCC further advised some records sought by Plaintiff did not exist. Out of an abundance of caution, the LCCC also advised some categories of records sought by Plaintiff would be exempt pursuant to provisions such as the Open Records Act's personal privacy exemption and its homeland security exemption. See Complaint at Paragraphs 13-14.

Unsatisfied, Plaintiff appealed LCCC's response to the Attorney General pursuant to KRS 61.880. The Attorney General reviewed Plaintiff's appeal and LCCC's October 23, 2017 response to Plaintiff's request, and issued the underlying decision Plaintiff now seeks to enforce (17-ORD-272), including the Attorney General's directive to produce records responsive to Plaintiff's request. See Exhibit A: 17-ORD-272 <sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> The original sender of the Open Records request at issue was Plaintiff's attorney, Andrew Seidel. The original recipient was the LCCC. The parties before the Attorney General in 17-ORD-272 were Seidel and the Laurel County Jailer (Mosley), although the Attorney General's decision repeatedly speaks in terms of the LCCC's actions, not Mosley himself. The parties now before this Court are Seidel's employer, Plaintiff Freedom from Religion Foundation; Defendant LCCC; and Defendant Mosley. This position statement is submitted on behalf of Defendants Mosley and the LCCC.

It is true the Attorney General found the LCCC violated the Open Records Act in some aspects of its response to Plaintiff's request. But the Attorney General repeatedly labeled these violations simply as "failures"—such as a failure by the LCCC to explain itself or meet a burden of proof—rather than "refusals," let alone intentional violations of law. Moreover, in three instances the Attorney General expressly found the LCCC complied with the Act. Exhibit A at 11-13. In fact, the Attorney General specifically noted, "the facts giving rise to [this action] do not conclusively establish intent on the part of LCCC to impede [Plaintiff's] inspection of the records identified in his request." Exhibit A at 3.

The Attorney General's finding is consistent with discovery exchanged in this lawsuit, in which Defendant Mosley explained his efforts to search for records responsive to Plaintiff's Open Records request, and how he concluded in some instances there were no records to produce. Exhibit B: Defendants' discovery responses. Defendant Mosley's uncontroverted responses are devoid of any indication he or anyone else at the LCCC intended to violate the Open Records Act in handling Plaintiff's request. Indeed, if anything, the LCCC's failure to produce certain records was the product of delay and mistake, but not "willful withholdings" or other intentional violations of law. To the extent the LCCC initially failed to produce records, that mistake was rectified by supplemental production to Plaintiff on June 22, 2018. Exhibit C: June 22, 2018 letter to Counsel for Plaintiff.

ISSUES

Plaintiff presents two claims in this lawsuit. First, Plaintiff seeks to enforce the Attorney General's decision in 17-ORD-272. Second, Plaintiff asks this Court to impose the extraordinary and discretionary remedy of statutory penalties and fees pursuant to KRS 61.882(5).

There is no question the Attorney General concluded the LCCC violated the Open Records Act in some respects. There is no question Defendants did not appeal. And there is no question the Attorney General's decision now has the force and effect of law. Yet there also is no question Defendants produced records, both at the time of Plaintiff's original request and subsequent to the Attorney General's underlying decision. Likewise, there is no question the Attorney General found the LCCC complied with the Act in some aspects of its response to Plaintiff's request. First, the Attorney General noted the Act does not require creating records that do not exist, and thus found "no violation" of the Act in response to Plaintiff's request for advertisements and promotional material for the Night of Prayer. Second, in responding to Plaintiff's request for contracts to provide substance abuse programming at LCCC, the Attorney General found the LCCC "appears to have responded appropriately to the request for contracts by providing the requested records." Third, in responding to Plaintiff's request for records on contracts or agreements for religious programming at the LCCC, the Attorney General again held, "we find no violation of the Open Records Act in responding to this request." See Exhibit A at 11-13.

Having produced what responsive records it has through the LCCC's original October 2017 response and its supplemental production of June 2018, Claim I of Plaintiff's complaint for enforcement of 17-ORD-272 is now moot. The questions that remain are whether Defendants' failure to produce everything Plaintiff wanted in the time frame and fashion Plaintiff wanted it constitutes a "willful withholding" of records as defined by law, and in turn, whether the Court should award Plaintiff statutory penalties and fees under KRS 61.882(5). See Complaint at Claim II. Defendants do not suggest they handled matters perfectly, but for the reasons below, the answer to both questions is no. Indeed, as the Attorney General recognized in his decision,

“the facts giving rise to [this action] do not conclusively establish intent on the part of LCCC to impede [Plaintiff’s] inspection of the records identified in his request.” Exhibit A at 3 (emphasis added).

STANDARD OF REVIEW

The Open Records Act, specifically KRS 61.882(5), provides a limited exception to the CR 54.05 rule that attorney fees shall not be imposed on the Commonwealth or its agencies.

Any person who prevails against any agency in any action in the courts regarding a violation of KRS 61.870 to 61.884 may, upon a finding that the records were willfully withheld in violation of KRS 61.870 to 61.884, be awarded costs, including reasonable attorney’s fees, incurred in connection with the legal action. If such person prevails in part, the court may in its discretion award him costs or an appropriate portion thereof. In addition, it shall be within the discretion of the court to award the person an amount not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25) for each day that he was denied the right to inspect or copy said public record. Attorney’s fees, costs, and awards under this subsection shall be paid by the agency that the court determines is responsible for the violation.

KRS 61.882(5) (emphasis added). Under the statute, a finding of a willful violation of the Act is necessary to impose fees and penalties.

The “willful” violation standard is an incredibly high bar. “A public agency’s mere refusal to furnish records based on a good faith claim of a statutory exemption, which is later determined to be incorrect, is insufficient to establish a willful violation of the Act. In other words, a technical violation of the Act is not enough; the existence of bad faith is required.” Bowling v. Lexington-Fayette Urban Cnty. Gov’t, 172 S.W.3d 333, 343-44 (Ky. 2005) (internal citation omitted, emphasis added). A willful violation of the Open Records Act or the Open Meetings Act requires a serious breach of the Acts’ requirements. “[W]illful connotes that the agency withheld requested records without plausible justification and with conscious disregard of the requester’s rights.” City of Fort Thomas v. Cincinnati Enquirer, 406 S.W.3d 842, 854 (Ky.

2013) (emphasis added). In order for this Court to award attorney fees and penalties, Plaintiff is “required to show that the University acted in bad faith with an intent to violate the Open Records Act and without plausible explanation for the alleged errors.” Sinha v. University of Kentucky, 284 S.W.3d 159, 162 (Ky. App. 2008) (emphasis added).

The question of “willful withholding” is a question of fact, and Plaintiff cannot satisfy its burden of proof without producing substantial evidence demonstrating the requisite intent to violate the law. Sinha 284 S.W.3d at 162. Even if Plaintiff could make such a showing, the award of penalties and fees is discretionary, not mandatory. See KRS 61.882(5). In other words, proving a “willful withholding” does not entitle Plaintiff to penalties and fees—it merely makes such an award possible if the Court chooses.

ARGUMENT

I. Plaintiff has failed to produce substantial evidence of intent to violate the Open Records Act.

In support of its argument for penalties and fees, Plaintiff cites eight points it contends constitute a “willful withholding” of records under KRS 61.882(5). Contrasted with the record set out in the Attorney General’s decision, however, it is clear Plaintiff has overstated the implications of that decision and the findings in it, and equally clear Plaintiff does not have any evidence—let alone the substantial evidence required by law—to justify the penalties and fees it seeks.

1. Plaintiff cites the LCCC’s failure to timely respond to Plaintiff’s Open Records request. Complaint at Paragraph 28. The Attorney General, however, merely found the LCCC “failed” to meet this requirement. Exhibit A at 2 fn. 1. He made no finding the LCCC “refused” to meet it or delayed its response with intent to violate the Act.

2. Plaintiff cites the LCCC's alleged "commingling" of responsive and non-responsive records—that is, producing the LCCC's policy manual without extracting or explicitly noting which specific policies within the manual addressed the information sought in Plaintiff's request. Complaint at Paragraph 29. Again, however, the Attorney General noted, "the facts giving rise to [this action] do not conclusively establish intent on the part of LCCC to impede [Plaintiff's] inspection of the records identified in his request." Exhibit A at 3. As to whether the LCCC willfully withheld records, the Attorney General noted the LCCC's alleged failure (not refusal) to explain or separate out relevant policies within the manual fell "short of denial of inspection." Indeed, the LCCC produced the policies. Exhibit C.

3. Plaintiff cites the LCCC's directive for Plaintiff to retrieve the records in person rather than mail them to Plaintiff, contrary to KRS 61.872(3)(b). Complaint at Paragraph 30. Yet the Attorney General's decision is devoid of any indication he viewed the LCCC's mistaken requirement to inspect the records in person to be an intentional violation of law. Exhibit A at 4.

4. Plaintiff contends the LCCC "refused" to provide some of the records Plaintiff requested by citing the Open Records Act's personal privacy exemption—KRS 61.878(1)(a)—without expressly explaining how the exemption applied. Complaint at Paragraph 31. The Attorney General found the LCCC failed to explain what privacy interests were implicated by Plaintiff's request and found the LCCC "has not sustained its burden of proof" in showing the exemption applied, but this is far short of a willful and intentional violation of law. See Exhibit A at 5, 8, 10.

5. Plaintiff notes the LCCC informed Plaintiff the LCCC had no records responsive to certain items Plaintiff sought, while simultaneously noting some items Plaintiff sought may be exempt pursuant to the Act's personal privacy exemption or that retrieval of responsive records would be unduly burdensome. Complaint at Paragraph 32. The Attorney General recognized the LCCC may have “conflated” the personal privacy exemption and the provision permitting denial of requests in cases of undue burden, and that the LCCC “failed” to demonstrate or explain undue burden or how the personal privacy exemption applied, but mere mistake, confusion, and shortcomings in proof are far from an intentional violation of law. See Exhibit A at 4, 5, 8, 10. Moreover, discovery has confirmed Defendant Mosley’s conclusion that certain records sought by Plaintiff do not exist was reached in due diligence and good faith. See Exhibit B.

6. Plaintiff argues the LCCC “refused” to produce some records and failed to satisfactorily explain why production of records would be unduly burdensome. See Complaint at Paragraph 33. As noted above, the Attorney General found the LCCC failed to present evidence as to how or why production would be unduly burdensome, but failure—that is, oversight or even negligence—falls far short of a willful and intentional violation of law.

7. Plaintiff argues the LCCC erred in “refusing” to produce some records and failing to explain why. Complaint at Paragraph 34. Yet there is nothing in either discovery or the record from the Attorney General to support Plaintiff’s contention that Defendants “refused” to do anything. At most, Plaintiff can show various failures to satisfy the Act were born out of confusion, mistake, or neglect—even substantial delay—but not actual intent to violate the law.

8. Plaintiff notes the LCCC cited the Open Records Act’s homeland security exemption—KRS 61.878(1)(m), without providing a basis for doing so. Complaint at Paragraph 35. The Attorney General’s decision is devoid of any indication he viewed the LCCC’s mistaken citation to KRS 61.878(1)(m) to be an intentional violation of law. Rather, the Attorney General found the LCCC failed to give a reasonable explanation of how that exemption applied. Exhibit A at 8-9.

In short, the most Plaintiff can argue—indeed, the most the record will support—is Defendants may have failed to address Plaintiff’s request with proper timeliness, accuracy, and clarity, but Plaintiff bears the burden of producing substantial evidence showing Defendants’ actions and oversights were product of a willful intent to violate the Open Records Act. Sinha at 162. There is no such evidence here.

II. Case law confirms even egregious mistakes are not “willful withholdings.”

Ten years ago, the Court of Appeals issued a decision in Sinha v. Univ. of Ky. that is instructive to this case. Exhibit D: Copy of Sinha v. Univ. of Ky. Sinha involved a University of Kentucky medical resident who was placed on probation by the College of Medicine’s Residency Evaluation Committee (“REC”). Sinha 284 S.W.3d at 160. Subsequently, the REC allegedly voted to grade Sinha as “unsatisfactory” in her Residency Director’s final evaluation and any subsequent evaluations. Id. The Residency Director also wrote a letter to the Kentucky Board of Medical Licensure (“KBML”) recommending Sinha not be granted a license to practice medicine in Kentucky. Id. Based on that letter, the KBML refused to grant Sinha a medical license. Id. As a result, Sinha could not fulfill her agreement to practice internal medicine at a rural health clinic at which she had accepted employment. Id. Without employment, Sinha’s immigration status mandated she return to India. Id.

Sinha later requested the University produce all of her graduate medical education records. Sinha 284 S.W.3d at 160. Sinha waited for more than two months for the records, and then filed suit pursuant to the Open Records Act. Sinha 284 S.W.3d at 161.

After suit was filed, the University mailed Sinha some, but not all, of her requested records. Sinha 284 S.W.3d at 161. Notably absent from those records the University did produce was the letter Sinha’s Residency Director had sent to the KBML. Id. Over a month later, the parties appeared in court, where the University agreed to provide the missing records. Id. Shortly thereafter, Sinha inspected her records and saw for the first time both minutes of the REC's decisions about her residency and the Residency Director's letter to the KBML. Id.

The circuit court found the University violated the Open Records Act and Sinha sought penalties and fees under KRS 61.882(5). Sinha 284 S.W.3d at 162. Sinha argued that because the court had found the University's conduct to be wrongful, it must also be found willful. Id. The circuit court, following the standards outlined above, disagreed, and the Court of Appeals affirmed. Id. at 162-163.

The facts of Sinha are in line with the case at bar in all relevant respects. Yet like Sinha, Plaintiff in this case asks this Court to convert mere findings of wrongfulness into a factual finding of willfulness—that is, a finding that Defendants' mistakes were the product of an actual intent to violate the law. Plaintiff has not produce such evidence, let alone the kind of substantial evidence Sinha requires. In short, penalties and fees were not warranted in Sinha, and they are not warranted here.

CONCLUSION

The Attorney General found the LCCC's response to some aspects of Plaintiff's Open Records request violated the Open Records Act, but did so in terms of things such as delays, inadequate explanations, and confusion and commingling of information and exemptions. As Sinha confirms, such errors may be wrongful, but that does not mean they are willful and intentional violations of law. Indeed, Plaintiff bears the burden of proving intent to violate the law with substantial evidence, yet the record is devoid of anything more than self-supporting inferences drawn by Plaintiff. Moreover, Defendants have supplemented their original responses with the remaining records and information Plaintiff's Open Records request required.

Accordingly, Plaintiff's claim to enforce 17-ORD-272 should be dismissed as moot and Plaintiff's claim for penalties and fees under KRS 61.882(5) should be dismissed for Plaintiff's failure to meet the burden of proof set by law for such an extraordinary remedy, all with prejudice.

In re: Andrew Seidel/Laurel County Jailer

Summary: Laurel County Jailer violated the Open Records Act in responding to request for records regarding "Night of Prayer" at Laurel County Correctional Center. Laurel County Jailer commingled nonresponsive records with responsive records, and failed to meet its burden of proof to justify withholding records under the personal privacy and homeland security exemptions. Laurel County Jailer did not explain why producing certain records would be unreasonably burdensome, and violated the Act by requiring out-of-county requester to inspect records at Laurel County Correctional Center.

Open Records Decision

The issue presented in this appeal is whether the Laurel County Jailer violated the Open Records Act in the disposition of a request for records relating to a "Night of Prayer" at the jail, and various other records. For the reasons stated below, we find that the Laurel County Jailer violated the Act.

Background. The Laurel County Correctional Center (LCCC) hosted a "Night of Prayer" on Tuesday, August 29, 2017. The event was announced on LCCC's Facebook page with the stated purpose of forming "a prayer chain around each floor, and around the entire jail." The reason for the event, as reported in news articles, was to "battle the drug issues in the community" and to recognize the overcrowding problem at the jail. News articles estimated that hundreds of people attended the event in and around LCCC.

By letter dated October 6, 2017, Andrew Seidel, Freedom From Religion Foundation, requested records from LCCC relating to the “Night of Prayer;” contracts, communications, and policies relating to substance abuse programming at LCCC, and contracts, communications, and policies relating to religious programming at LCCC. LCCC responded to the request on October 23, 2017,<sup>1</sup> by providing the 2015, 2016, and 2017 “Policy and Procedure Guidelines” for LCCC, and substance abuse program contracts, but otherwise denying the requests.<sup>2</sup>

The requests and responses, and our analysis of those responses follows:

Request No. 1 and Response.

1. All records related to organization and/or planning of the Night of Prayer. This request includes: (a) any LCCC policies regarding jail events involving the public, and (b) any communications between LCCC employees or between LCCC employees and persons not employed by LCCC regarding the Night of Prayer including, but not limited to: memos, emails, fliers, signs, social media posts, notes and meeting minutes.

Response: “Enclosed are the 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines for the Laurel County Correctional Center.

This request is denied in part as overly burdensome and exempt pursuant to KRS 61.878(1)(a) wherein communications between LCCC employees and/or LCCC employees and private citizens are not subject to public disclosure and would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The Laurel County

<sup>1</sup> We note that LCCC failed to comply with the procedural requirement for timely responses to open records requests. KRS 61.880(1) states, in pertinent part: “Each public agency, upon any request for records made under KRS 61.870 to 61.884, shall determine within three (3) days, excepting Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, after the receipt of any such request whether to comply with the request and shall notify in writing the person making the request, within the three (3) day period, of its decision.” There is no explanation in the record as to why LCCC did not respond in a timely manner.

<sup>2</sup> Neither the Laurel County Jailer nor the Laurel County Attorney responded to this Office after receipt of notice of the appeal. Our decision is thus based on the request and LCCC’s response to Appellant.

Correctional Center is not in custody or control of records related to the organization and/or planning of the Night of Prayer.”

Analysis of Request No. 1 and Response.

Policies regarding jail events involving the public. LCCC’s response to the request for “policies regarding LCCC events involving the public,” was to provide a copy of LCCC’s 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines without further explanation. It is not reasonable that the entirety of the 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines would apply to the request for policies regarding LCCC events involving the public, and there is no explanation of which portion(s) of the 2017 Guidelines are responsive to the request. Without further explanation from LCCC, we must conclude that any responsive record(s) in the 2017 Guidelines are commingled with nonresponsive portions of the Guidelines.

In prior decisions, where this Office has found that an agency has commingled nonresponsive records with responsive records in a manner that precluded meaningful review of the responsive records, we have found that “the [agency’s] efforts fell short of the statutory requirements codified at KRS 61.880(1).” 02-ORD-150, p. 7; 07-ORD-150 (other citations omitted).

As in those prior decisions, the facts giving rise to this appeal do not conclusively establish intent on the part of LCCC to impede Appellant’s inspection of the records identified in his request. However, the language of the statute governing agency action is unambiguous. It requires the agency to produce records responsive to an open records request formulated with sufficient specificity to enable the agency’s custodian of records to locate and retrieve those records. In this case, Appellant’s request was formulated with sufficient specificity for LCCC to identify and locate the records requested, and LCCC should have responded only with the responsive records or explained which policies and procedures in the 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines were responsive to this particular request. We find that LCCC subverted the intent of the Open Records Act, short of denial of inspection, by commingling nonresponsive records with responsive records so as to create an unnecessary impediment to effective inspection. 07-ORD-105.

All records related to organization and/or planning the Night of Prayer, and Communications regarding the Night of Prayer

LCCC denied the request regarding communications on three different bases: 1. The request was overly burdensome; 2. The records are exempt pursuant to KRS 61.878(1)(a) which exempts "Public records containing information of a personal nature where the public disclosure thereof would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy[;]" and 3. LCCC is not in custody or control of records related to the organization and/or planning of the Night of Prayer.

Unreasonably Burdensome. KRS 61.872(6) authorizes public agencies to deny open records requests if the requests "place[ ] an unreasonable burden in producing public records" or if the agency "has reason to believe that repeated requests are intended to disrupt other essential functions of the public agency." Denial of the right of inspection under this provision must be supported by clear and convincing evidence, and the public agency that attempts to do so "faces a high proof threshold." Commonwealth v. Chestnut, 250 S.W.3d 655, 664 (Ky. 2008). "[T]he obvious fact that complying with an open records request will consume both time and manpower is, standing alone, not sufficiently clear and convincing evidence of an unreasonable burden." Id. at 665. Moreover, the fact that the responsive records "are voluminous does not mean that it would necessarily be unreasonable [for an agency] to comply with an otherwise valid open records request." Id. at 666. LCCC presents no evidence, clear and convincing or otherwise, that Appellant's requests are unreasonably burdensome or intended to disrupt its essential functions. "A bare allegation that a request is unreasonably burdensome or intended to disrupt essential functions does not satisfy the requirements of the statute." 10-ORD-203, p. 3 (citing 06-ORD-177). LCCC's denial, on the basis that the request is overly burdensome, fails as LCCC provided no evidence or argument that complying with the request was overly burdensome.

Personal Privacy Exemption. Regarding LCCC's claim that the records are not subject to disclosure due to personal privacy concerns, KRS 61.878(1)(a) excludes from the application of the Open Records Act "[p]ublic records containing information of a personal nature where the public disclosure thereof would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy." This language acknowledges “that personal privacy is of legitimate concern and worthy of protection from invasion by unwarranted public scrutiny,” while the Open Records Act as a whole “exhibits a general bias favoring disclosure” and places the burden of establishing an exemption on the public agency. Kentucky Bd. of Examiners of Psychologists v. Courier-Journal and Louisville Times Co., 826 S.W.2d 324, 327 (Ky. 1992). This necessitates a “comparative weighing of the antagonistic interests. Necessarily, the circumstances of a particular case will affect the balance. [T]he question of whether an invasion of privacy is ‘clearly unwarranted’ is intrinsically situational, and can only be determined within a specific context.” Id. at 327-28. LCCC has provided no hint as to what privacy interests would be at risk by the release of the requested records. Without some explanation of the privacy interests implicated by release of the records, the public’s interest in the records must prevail in the comparative weighing of the antagonistic interests.

LCCC also argues that it is not in custody of records relating to the organization and/or planning of the night of Prayer. This claim is directly contradictory to its claim that the records are protected from release due to privacy concerns and the claim that production would be unreasonably burdensome. This self-contradiction, when taken in light of the Act’s basic policy that “free and open examination of public records is in the public interest and the exceptions provided for by KRS 61.878 or otherwise provided by law shall be strictly construed[,]”<sup>3</sup> leads to the conclusion that LCCC has failed to comply with that basic policy and violated the Act.

Pursuant to KRS 61.880(2)(c), the burden of proof in sustaining an agency’s action (in withholding public records) lies with the agency. LCCC has made disparate claims regarding whether responsive records exist, whether they contain personal information, and that disclosure would be “overly burdensome.” LCCC has provided no credible basis in fact for withholding the records, nor explained how these claims apply to the records, if they exist or not. LCCC has not sustained its burden of proof in withholding the requested records.

<sup>3</sup> KRS 61.871 states: “The General Assembly finds and declares that the basic policy of KRS 61.870 to 61.884 is that free and open examination of public records is in the public interest and the exceptions provided for by KRS 61.878 or otherwise provided by law shall be strictly construed, even though such examination may cause inconvenience or embarrassment to public officials or others.”

17-ORD-272

Request No. 2. And Response.

2. All records related to employee staffing at LCCC during the "Night of Prayer." This request includes: (a) any LCCC policy regarding staffing during jail events involving the public, and (b) logbooks, timecards, staff assignments, payment receipts, expense reports, invoices, and any communications related to employee staffing including, but not limited to: memos, emails, fliers, signs, social media posts, notes and meeting minutes.

Response: Enclosed are the 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines for the Laurel County Correctional Center. Please be advised that non-exempt public records of the Laurel County Correctional Center may be inspected and copied upon request at 204 W. 4th Street, London, Kentucky between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. EST.

The request is denied in part as overly burdensome as the request places an unreasonable burden on the agency in producing all staffing records for August 29, 2017. The request is further denied pursuant to KRS 61.878(1)(a) as records containing information of a personal nature if disclosure would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The request for staff assignments and communications related to employee staffing is further denied pursuant to KRS 61.878(1)(m) as the disclosure of which would have a reasonable likelihood of threatening the public safety by exposing a vulnerability in preventing, protecting against, mitigating, or responding to a terrorist act.

No public funds were expended by the Laurel County Correctional Center for the Night of Prayer event held on August 29, 2017.

17-ORD-272

Analysis of Request No. 2 and Response.*Records related to staffing at LCCC during the "Night of Prayer."

As in response to Request No. 1, LCCC provided the 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines without explaining which portions of the Guidelines are responsive to the request. For the same reasons as we explained in our analysis of LCCC's response to Request No. 1, LCCC subverted the intent of the Act by failing to separate nonresponsive records from responsive records.

LCCC further responded that "non-exempt public records of the Laurel County Correctional Center may be inspected and copied upon request at 204 W. 4th Street, London, Kentucky between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. EST." However, a public agency cannot require all persons to inspect records at the physical address of the agency. Pursuant to KRS 61.872(3), there are two methods by which a requester may inspect public agency records:

(3) A person may inspect the public records:

(a) During the regular office hours of the public agency; or

(b) By receiving copies of the public records from the public agency through the mail. The public agency shall mail copies of the public records to a person whose residence or principal place of business is outside the county in which the public records are located after he precisely describes the public records which are readily available within the public agency. If the person requesting the public records requests that copies of the records be mailed, the official custodian shall mail the copies upon receipt of all fees and the cost of mailing.

Appellant and his requests meet the requirements of KRS 61.872(3)(b),<sup>4</sup> and LCCC must mail the requested records to Appellant after receipt all fees and cost of mailing.

<sup>4</sup> Appellant's address is Madison, Wisconsin, and so he has his residence and workplace outside Laurel County, and his requests "precisely describe" the records requested. KRS 61.872(3)(b).

LCCC denied this request on the basis that it placed an unreasonable burden on the agency, but also invoked KRS 61.878(1)(a). The response again failed to provide any explanation for the exemptions claimed and we reject these denials on the same bases as we explained above regarding the request for records relating to the organization and/or planning of the Night of Prayer.

Analysis of exemption pursuant to KRS 61.878(1)(m).

LCCC also asserted that the request for “staff assignments and communications related to employee staffing is further denied pursuant to KRS 61.878(1)(m) as the disclosure of which would have a reasonable likelihood of threatening the public safety by exposing a vulnerability in preventing, protecting against, mitigating, or responding to a terrorist act.”

In 17-ORD-179, the Lexington Police Department (LPD) denied a request for certain records pertaining to surveillance technologies owned or used by the LPD on the basis of KRS 61.878(1)(m). In deciding that LPD did not meet its burden in justifying its reliance on KRS 61.878(1)(m), we cited, in part, to LPD’s failure to specify which subparagraph of KRS 61.878(1)(m), if any, was applicable to the denial. By its own terms, KRS 61.878(1)(m) is “limited to” the types of records listed in subparagraphs KRS 61.878(1)(m)1.(a) through 1.(h) of that statute.<sup>5</sup> In this appeal, LCCC also failed to cite the subparagraph on which it

1. Public records the disclosure of which would have a reasonable likelihood of threatening the public safety by exposing a vulnerability in preventing, protecting against, mitigating, or responding to a terroristic act and limited to:
  - a. Criticality lists resulting from consequence assessments;
  - b. Vulnerability assessments;
  - c. Antiterrorism protective measures and plans;
  - d. Counterterrorism measures and plans;
  - e. Security and response needs assessments;
  - f. Infrastructure records that expose a vulnerability referred to in this subparagraph through the disclosure of the location, configuration, or security of critical systems, including public utility critical systems. These critical systems shall include but not be limited to information technology, communication, electrical, fire suppression, ventilation, water, wastewater, sewage, and gas systems;
  - g. The following records when their disclosure will expose a vulnerability referred to in this subparagraph: detailed drawings, schematics, maps, or specifications of structural elements, floor plans, and operating, utility, or security systems of any building or facility owned, occupied, leased, or maintained by a public agency; and relied in denying the request. A reasonable explanation of the application of KRS 61.878(1)(m) would necessarily have to explain which particular subparagraph of KRS 61.878(1)(m)1 applies to the requested records. LCCC made no attempt to explain how releasing the requested records relating to "staff assignments and communications related to employee staffing" would have a "reasonable likelihood of threatening the public safety by exposing a vulnerability in preventing, protecting against, mitigating, or responding to a terrorist act[.]"

We adopt the reasoning set forth in 17-ORD-179, both as to the requirement that an agency must identify which subsection of KRS 61.878(1)(m)1.(a) through 1.(h) applies to the records withheld, and to that decision's more substantive analysis explaining that the agency must establish how disclosure would create a "reasonable likelihood of threatening the public safety by exposing a vulnerability" in the manner described. LCCC's failure to cite to the specific subsection of KRS 61.878(1)(m)1. that applies to its denial, and failure to provide an explanation of how the "homeland security" exemption applies to the requested records, are violations of the Act.

Request No. 3 and Response.

All records related to inmate attendance at the "Night of Prayer," including but not limited to: (a) any LCCC policies regarding releasing inmates from their cells, (b) any communications regarding inmate attendance at the "Night of Prayer," including, but not limited to: memos, emails, social media posts, notes, and meeting minutes.

Response: Enclosed are the 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines for the Laurel County Correctional Center. Please be advised that non-exempt public records of the Laurel County Correctional Center may be inspected and copied upon request at 204 W. 4th Street, London, Kentucky between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. EST.

- h. Records when their disclosure will expose a vulnerability referred to in this subparagraph and that describe the exact location of hazardous chemical, radiological, or biological materials.

The request is denied in part as overly burdensome and exempt pursuant to KRS 61.878(1)(a) wherein the public disclosure of an inmate's free and voluntary religious practice, including worship and/or prayer would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

Analysis of Request No. 3 and Response. As in response to Requests No. 1, and No. 2, LCCC provided the 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines without explaining which portions of the Guidelines are responsive to the request. For the same reasons as we explained in our analyses of those responses, LCCC subverted the intent of the Act by failing to separate nonresponsive records from responsive records. LCCC also conflated the exemption for personal privacy (KRS 61.878(1)(a)) with KRS 61.872(6), which allows an agency to refuse unreasonably burdensome requests. LCCC's refusal did not satisfy the burden of proof for either of those sections of the Act.<sup>6</sup> LCCC's response to this request also constitutes a violation of the Act.

LCCC's response that "non-exempt public records of the Laurel County Correctional Center may be inspected and copied upon request at 204 W. 4th Street, London, Kentucky between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. EST," is also rejected by the same analysis as we set forth in response to Request No. 2. Appellant and his requests meet the requirements of KRS 61.872(3)(b), and LCCC must mail the requested records to Appellant after receipt all fees and cost of mailing.

Request No. 4 and Response.

4. All advertisements or promotional material related to the "Night of Prayer," including drafts of the materials.

Response: The Laurel County Correctional Center is not in custody or control of advertisements, promotional material and/or or drafts thereof related to the "Night of Prayer."

<sup>6</sup> As explained in our analysis of Request No. 1, the personal privacy exemption requires the agency to explain how public disclosure of the agency's records "would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy;" and that denying the request on the basis that it constitutes an "unreasonable burden" requires the agency to sustain the refusal "by clear and convincing evidence."

17-ORD-272

Analysis of Request No. 4 and Response.

A public agency cannot afford a requester access to a record that it does not have or that does not exist. 99-ORD-98. The agency discharges its duty under the Open Records Act by affirmatively so stating. 99-ORD-150. In the absence of legal authority requiring the creation of the records, or facts indicating the records were created, we see no need to require further explanation of the requested documents' nonexistence. See 11-ORD-091. Accordingly, we find no violation of the Open Records Act in LCCC's response to this request.

Two Additional Requests and Responses. Appellant made two additional records requests, each with three subparts:

Additional Request No. 1 and Response.

I further request copies of the following records for the period of January 1, 2015 to the present:

1. (a) any contracts or other agreements with any persons or organizations to provide substance abuse programming at LCCC;
- (b) any communications, including emails, to or from LCCC employees regarding persons or organizations providing substance abuse programming at LCCC;
- (c) any LCCC policies or procedures for creation or dissolution of any substance abuse program.

Response: Enclosed are the 2015, 2016 and 2017 Policy and Procedure Guidelines for the Laurel County Correctional Center. Please be advised that non-exempt public records of the Laurel County Correctional Center may be inspected and copied upon request at 204 W. 4th Street, London, Kentucky between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. EST.

The Laurel County Correctional Center exclusively contracts with the Kentucky Department of Corrections to provide substance abuse programming ("SAP) for inmates. Enclosed are the SAP contracts for 2015, 2016 and 2017.

Analysis of Additional Request No. 1 and Response.

LCCC appears to have responded appropriately to the request for contracts by providing the requested records, but did not respond at all to the request for communications regarding persons or organizations providing substance abuse at LCCC. KRS 61.880(1), in relevant part, states:

Each public agency, upon any request for records made under KRS 61.870 to 61.884, shall determine within three (3) days, excepting Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, after the receipt of any such request whether to comply with the request and shall notify in writing the person making the request, within the three (3) day period, of its decision.

LCCC's failure to respond to the request for communications is a violation of the Act. The response to the request for policies regarding creation or dissolution of any substance abuse program violated the Act by again failing to except out the nonresponsive portions of the records provided, or to explain which parts of the Guidelines are responsive.

Additional Request No. 2 and Response.

The second part of the request for records for the period of January 1, 2015, to the present was:

2. (a) any contracts or other agreements with any persons or organizations to provide religious programming at LCCC;
- (b) any communications, including emails, to or from LCCC employees regarding persons or organizations providing religious programming at LCCC;
- (c) any LCCC policies or procedures for creation or dissolution of any religious program.

Response: No contracts or agreements exist at the Laurel County Correctional Center for religious programming.

17-ORD-272

Analysis of Additional Request No. 2 and Response.

We again cite to 99-ORD-98 and 99-ORD-150 for the proposition that a public agency cannot afford a requester access to a record that it does not have or that does not exist, and that the agency discharges its duty under the Open Records Act by affirmatively so stating. Accordingly, we find no violation of the Open Records Act by LCCC in responding to this request.

A party aggrieved by this decision may appeal it by initiating action in the appropriate circuit court pursuant to KRS 61.880(5) and KRS 61.882. Pursuant to KRS 61.880(3), the Attorney General shall be notified of any action in circuit court, but shall not be named as a party in that action or in any subsequent proceeding.

DEFENDANTS' RESPONSES TO PLAINTIFF'S FIRST SET OF DISCOVERY REQUESTS

JAMIE MOSLEY, LAUREL COUNTY JAILER
and LAUREL COUNTY CORRECTIONAL CENTER

*****

Defendants, by counsel, respond to the Plaintiff's First Set of Discovery Requests as follows:

INTERROGATORIES

INTERROGATORY NO. 1: Please state every email addresses Defendant Mosley used at any time in his role as Laurel County Jailer.

ANSWER: jailerlcdc@windstream.net

INTERROGATORY NO. 2: Please describe in detail the process you engaged in to locate correspondence, including email, regarding the Night of Prayer event in response to FFRF's October 6, 2017 open records request.

ANSWER: I was the only person at the Laurel County Detention Center who was in contact with the other community members concerning the event. In my communications, I knew that no emails were used. In fact, I do not believe that Mr. Ormsby, who is identified below, even has an email account. Because I was the only one from the jail participating in those conversations and because I knew there was no email correspondence, no processes were used or could have been used to locate any correspondence regarding the night of prayer. Furthermore, most employees at the jail do not use a personal computer for their job and no emails would have existed for them.

INTERROGATORY NO. 3: Please describe in detail the process you engaged in to locate correspondence, including email, regarding LCC's substance abuse programming in response to FFRF's October 6, 2017 open records request.

ANSWER: Because the Laurel County Detention Center exclusively contracts with the State for its substance abuse program the only documents to provide were those related to the agreement with the State. The contracts with the State for the state substance abuse program were copied and provided in the response to the request from FFRF.

INTERROGATORY NO. 4: Please provide the name, contact person, address and telephone number of every church or other organization that provided any funding for the August 29, 2017 Night of Prayer event or attended it.

ANSWER: I have no information or knowledge that any church or other organization providing any funding for the event. I do not know of any church or other organization that attended the event. I do not have knowledge of everyone who attended and there was no roll call of attendees. Various persons did attend but I do not know if they came in some formal capacity with their church or another organization or simply on their own.

INTERROGATORY NO. 5: Please provide the name, address, telephone number and email address of every person who participated in organizing the August 29, 2017 Night of Prayer event.

ANSWER: Harry Ormsby;

. I am not aware of any email address for him.

VERIFICATION

I hereby certify that the foregoing Answers to Interrogatories are true and accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief.

REQUEST NO. 1: Please produce all documents that reflect, relate to, refer to, or evidence your effort to respond to Plaintiff's October 6, 2017 open records request. RE: Freedom From Religion Foundation v. Jamie Mosley, Laurel County Jailer and Laurel County Correctional Center, Laurel Circuit Court, Case No. 18-CI-00077
STBM File No.: 65797.0001

Dear Shelley:

I am writing in follow-up to my prior conversation with you (and the Court) about supplementing the Laurel County Correctional Center's ("LCCC") responses to your client's open records request. Specifically, I am writing to address the request you have made on behalf of your client for any additional records not yet received. If I have overlooked something in the detail below that you believe I am not responding to, please let me know. In other words, if you think there are still other records that should have been produced, please let me know.

As I understand the Attorney General's ruling and your position, there are two categories of records you believe were never received. First, your client requested records relating to employee staffing at LCCC. Second, you requested records relating to inmate attendance at the "Night of Prayer."

As for the original Request No. 2 regarding staffing at LCCC during the event, enclosed you will find what is labeled as a "Detail Report," which shows every employees' hours worked on August 29, 2017. Of course, not all employees listed actually worked during the event, but you can readily ascertain who did by the time-stamped entries of clocking in and out. No other document exists that would provide a detail of only those employees who were working during the event. Further, to be clear, there are no responsive documents relating to communications with employees concerning the "Night of Prayer" event.

As for the original Request No. 3 relating to inmate attendance at the "Night of Prayer," there are no documents for communications regarding inmate attendance at the "Night of Prayer" and no memos, emails, social media posts, notes, or meeting minutes. Nor does any roster of attendance at the event exist. At best, LCCC could only create a new and currently non-existent record of inmate attendance by viewing the complete listing of all inmates and comparing that list to a separate record which shows all cell assignment history detailing movement of inmates out of their cells or through the facility. Because the Open Records Act clearly does not require a public agency to create a new document in order to respond to a request (18-ORD-077), and since no record of inmate attendance exists, these documents were not originally identified or provided in response to the original request. However, I am providing a record to you that shows the "Alpha Head Count by Date" as of August 29, 2017 as well as the "Cell Assignment History" on August 29, 2017 from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Subtracting one from the other is the best we can do but still it is not in itself a record of attendance, simply a list of those inmates in entire facility.

Again, I believe the enclosed documents cover what the LCCC has responsive to your client's outstanding requests. To the extent an Open Records exemption was asserted in the LCCC's original response for which it ultimately was determined there were in fact no responsive documents, our clients maintain such exemptions were cited out of an abundance of caution and a good faith desire both to protect personal privacy rights and comply with other applicable laws such as those reflected in KRS 61.878(1)(m). However, upon further review, and without waiving the merit of prior assertions, our clients have determined the enclosed documents can be reasonably produced while still maintaining compliance with personal privacy rights and other applicable law.

I will be away from the office with family through July 5. I assume that by now you have received the notice that we drew Judge Hendrickson from Harlan for this case. I am happy to work with you to schedule a hearing with him on the renewal of your motion. I do not think it serves either of us well - or our clients - to make additional trips to Harlan for this Laurel County case. If you think we can generally make a phone call to Judge Hendrickson's chambers to schedule a special appointment/hearing on the motion, I am happy to do so.

Sincerely,

STURGILL, TURNER, BARKER & MOLONEY, PLLC

Before LAMBERT and TAYLOR, Judges;

110(5)(b) of the Kentucky Constitution and Kentucky

*160 OPINION

LAMBERT, Judge.

Shyamashree Sinha, M.D., appeals an order denying her attorneys fees, costs, and a per diem sum. After careful review, we affirm.

Shyamashree Sinha, M.D., (hereinafter Sinha), obtained her medical doctorate from the Calcutta National Medical College in Calcutta, India, in September 1996. On September 2, 2002, she began her residency training in the Department of Internal Medicine, College of Medicine, at the University of Kentucky. She continued residency training until March 31, 2006. Six weeks prior to graduation, Sinha was informed by Steven A. Haist, M.D., (hereinafter Haist), her Residency Director, that the Resident Evaluation Committee
(REC) had determined to place her on a six-month probation. Sinha later determined that the REC had voted on February 9, 2006,

Synopsis

Background: Former resident physician brought action against public medical school for its failure to accommodate her request for records under Open Records Act, seeking attorney fees, costs, and a per diem sum. The Circuit Court, Fayette County, Kimberly N. Bunnell, J., denied resident's claim. Resident appealed.

[Holding:] The Court of Appeals, Lambert, J., held that medical school's failure to timely accommodate resident's request for records was not willful.

Affirmed.

for Haist to grade Sinha as unsatisfactory in his final evaluation and in any subsequent evaluations. According to Sinha, that determination was in actuality a termination. Sinha claims that the secret termination was never communicated to her, and thus that she was denied the opportunity to request and receive, under the University's administrative procedures, an evidentiary hearing on her termination before an impartial hearing committee.

Graduation from a residency program is not statutorily required in Kentucky, and Dr. Sinha had previously entered into an employment agreement with a rural health care clinic in Kentucky. Accordingly, Dr. Sinha elected to obtain her permanent medical license through the Kentucky Board of Medical Licensure (KBML) and begin practicing medicine pursuant to that employment agreement. Sinha thereby resigned her residency on April 1, 2006.

Unbeknownst to Sinha, Haist wrote a letter on May 3, 2006, to the KBML recommending that Sinha not be granted a license to practice medicine in Kentucky. On the basis of the letter, the KBML refused to grant Sinha a license to practice medicine, and Sinha could not fulfill her agreement to practice internal medicine at the rural health clinic in Berea. Without employment and having no legal status in the United States, Sinha's immigration status mandated that she return to India.

On January 3, 2007, Sinha requested in writing that the University of Kentucky make all her graduate medical education records and documents available to her for inspection and copying. Sinha believed she was making this request pursuant to the Open Records Act; however, her request did not state such. The request stated:

I hereby request that you forward to me at the hereinabove address the full and complete records of any graduate medical education in the Internal Medicine Department at the University of Kentucky, including, but not limited to, copies of any and all evaluations, letters, correspondence, memoranda, and any and all other communications directed to parties within the University of Kentucky or outside of the University and to any and all third parties, including, but not limited to, the Kentucky Board of Medical Licensure, regarding my training, progress, proficiency, evaluations, probation, character or any other aspect of my tenure in the Internal Medicine Department of the University of Kentucky.

The request was sent to Deborah Aminoff, (hereinafter Aminoff), Director of Graduate Medical Education and was received on January 22, 2007.

According to Sinha, the University was required under *161 Kentucky Revised

Shyamashree Sinha, M.D. v. University of Kentucky, 284 S.W.3d 159 (2008)

Statutes (KRS) 61.872(4) to notify her if Aminoff was not the proper custodian of the records, and they were otherwise required to communicate with her within three days of receipt of the requests as set forth in KRS 61.872(4)(5). Sinha waited for more than two months for the records and did not make any contact with the University to inquire about the records. On April 2, 2007, she filed the underlying civil action pursuant to the Kentucky Open Records Act.

On April 4, 2007, the University of Kentucky mailed Sinha some, but not all, of her requested records. Sinha did not receive a copy of the May 3, 2006, letter Haist had written to the KBML nor did she receive the minutes of the meeting of the REC from February 9, 2006. The University of Kentucky then filed an answer and a motion to dismiss Sinha's complaint arguing, among other things, that Sinha had not designated that her request was pursuant to the Open Records Act, that she had not contacted Aminoff to inquire about the records, and that the case was moot because all of Sinha's records were mailed to her on April 4, 2007.

The parties appeared before the Fayette Circuit Court on the Motion to Dismiss on May 18, 2007. The case was called, and the parties then agreed with the court that the University would provide the missing records. Both parties then agreed to pass the motion. On May 30, 2007, Sinha was permitted to inspect her records and found the May 3, 2006, letter from Haist to the KBML and the minutes of the REC meeting on February 9, 2006.

Sinha then sought reimbursement of her attorneys fees, costs, and a per diem sum pursuant to KRS 61.882(5), arguing that the University's conduct was wrongful and willful. Sinha sought $12,549.34 in costs and attorneys fees and a per diem sum of $3,225.00 based upon 129 days at $25.00 per day.

[1] At the hearing on the motion, the University argued that their conduct was neither wrongful or willful, emphasizing that Sinha never contacted the University to inquire about her request and that had she done so, the records would have been sent sooner. The University also argued that the records were voluminous and had to be extensively reviewed and redacted to ensure no protected patient information was included in the copies, consistent with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).

Furthermore, the University provided affidavits of the records custodians, which indicated that Aminoff assumed Sinha's request was simply a routine request for student records rather than a request made pursuant to the Open Records Act. The University explained that Aminoff gathered Sinha's Graduate Medical Education (GME) file and sought assistance from Lindsey Sutton, Program Coordinator for the University's Internal Medicine Residency Program, who had access to both internal medicine (IM) residency files and meeting minutes of the REC. According to Sutton, the meeting minutes from the REC are the written record of the Committee actions regarding any number of issues and, consistent with their nature, are not maintained in individual IM residency files and are instead maintained in a separate file in Sutton's office. Sutton testified by affidavit that she neither read nor understood Sinha's request to seek or encompass Committee minutes.

The University also argued that when it sent Sinha's records on April 4, 2007, it was not aware of either the lawsuit filed on April 2, 2007, or of the existence of Haist's May 3, 2006, letter to the KBML. When it became aware of the May 3, 2006, letter to the KBML, it made it available to Sinha.

*162 Sinha argued that the University's conduct was willful and that its motion to dismiss was frivolous, given that it knew it had withheld the records. Essentially, Sinha argued that because the court found the University's conduct to be wrongful, it must also be found willful. Sinha argued that the University deliberately withheld the records until after her allotted time to file an administrative appeal and that it was not her responsibility to contact the University regarding the Open Records request.

The trial court denied Sinha's KRS 61.882\(5\) motion, holding that, "[t]he Court hereby finds that while [the University's] handling of [Dr. Sinha's] January 3, 2007[,] request for records was wrongful, there is not a sufficient basis for the Court to find the University's conduct was willful under KRS 61.882\(5\)." On February 15, 2008, Sinha filed her notice of appeal to this Court.

<sup>121</sup> KRS 61.882\(5\) provides: regarding a violation of KRS 61.870 to 61.884 may, upon a finding that the records were willfully withheld in violation of KRS 61.870 to 61.884, be awarded costs, including reasonable attorney's fees, incurred in connection with the legal action. If such person prevails in part, the court may in its discretion award him costs or an appropriate portion thereof. In addition, it shall be within the discretion of the court to award the person an amount not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25) for each day that he was denied the right to inspect or copy said public record. Attorney's fees, costs, and awards under this subsection shall be paid by the agency that the court determines is responsible for the violation.

[a]ny person who prevails against any agency in any action in the courts

Whether or not the University willfully withheld the records in the instant case was a factual finding for the trial court to make. That finding cannot be disturbed on appeal unless it was clearly erroneous. See Bowling v. LFUCG, 172 S.W.3d 333, 345 (Ky.2005). The question for this court, then, is whether the trial court's finding was supported by substantial evidence.

We hold that the trial court's decision was not clearly erroneous and was supported by substantial evidence. In order to show that the University's actions were willful, Sinha was required to show that the University acted in bad faith with an intent to violate the Open Records Act and without plausible explanation for the alleged errors. See KRS 61.882(5); Bowling, 172 S.W.3d at 343–345. The trial court below found that while the University improperly withheld the records, it did not do so with intent to violate the Act, and it had plausible explanation for its errors.

The evidence in this case consisted largely of testimony through conflicting affidavits. The trial court was in the position to judge the credibility of the various testimony and affidavits. We are not in a position to substitute our judgment for that of the trial court. Given the explanations found in the affidavits on record, we find that the trial court had substantial evidence to find that the University did not act willfully.

The records custodians testified that the REC minutes and Haist's letter were not items routinely kept in the IM files of each student, and the REC minutes were kept separately by the REC records custodian. Further, the custodians were not aware that Haist had written the letter until Sinha brought it to their attention, and she was then permitted to examine the letter and the minutes. This evidence was sufficient for the court to find that the University's conduct was not willful and that they *163 did not intentionally withhold records from Sinha. As such, the trial court's decision to deny the award of attorneys fees and costs was not clearly erroneous.

Given that the court must first determine that the University's actions were willful before it can award attorneys fees, costs, and any per diem sums, it is unnecessary for us to address the remainder of the parties' arguments concerning the standards to be utilized in establishing those costs and fees.

For the foregoing reasons, the decision of the Fayette Circuit Court is affirmed.
